DOWNTOWN YONGE

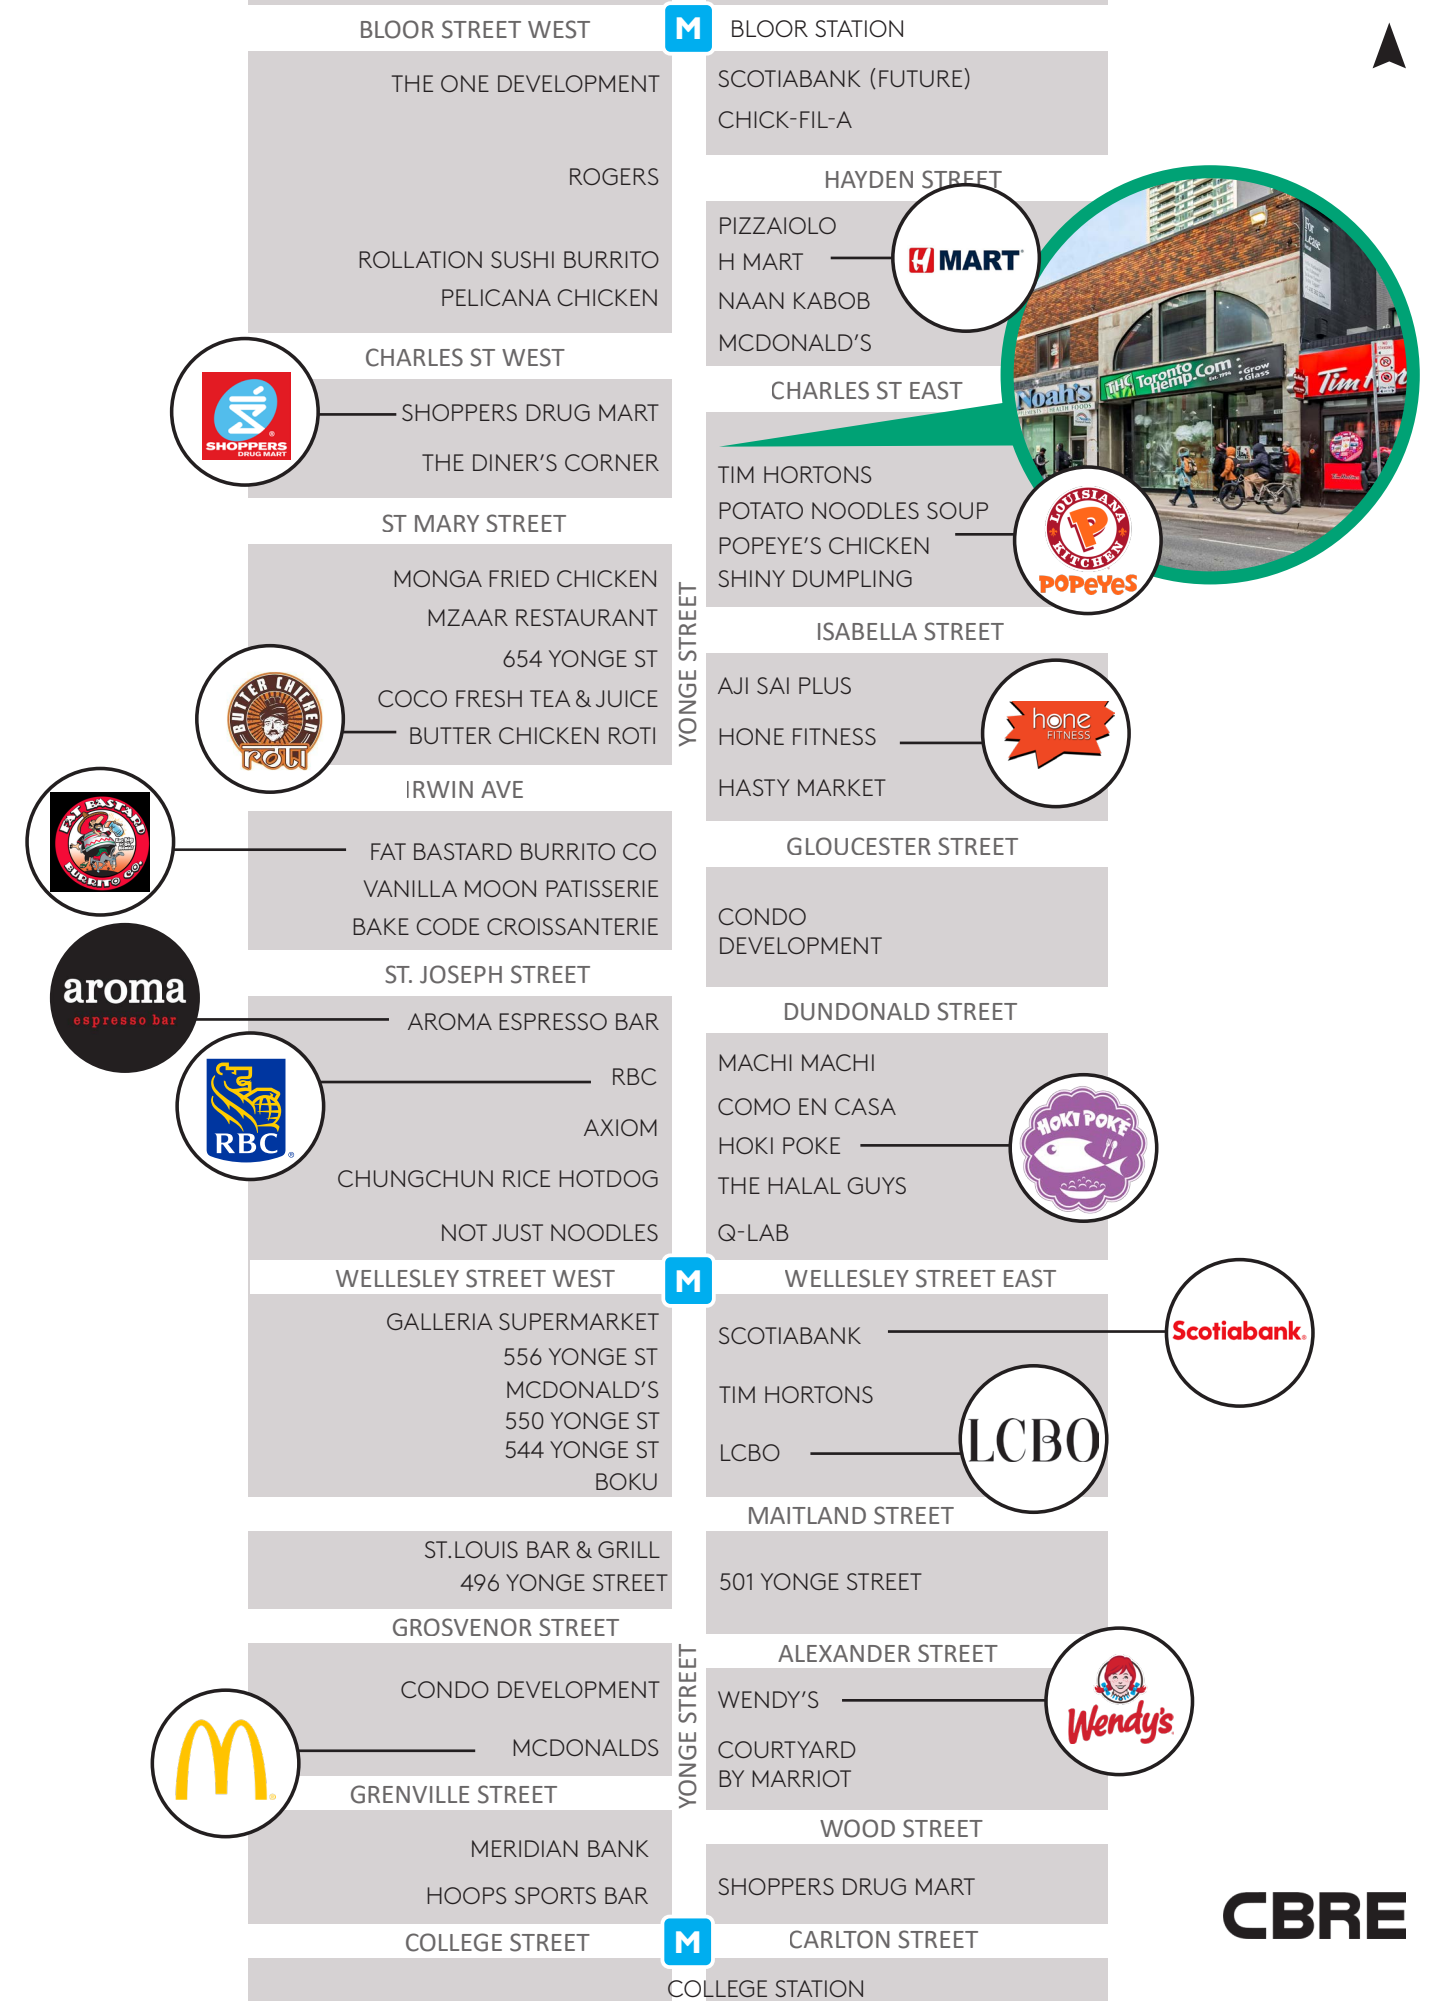

LOCATION OVERVIEW

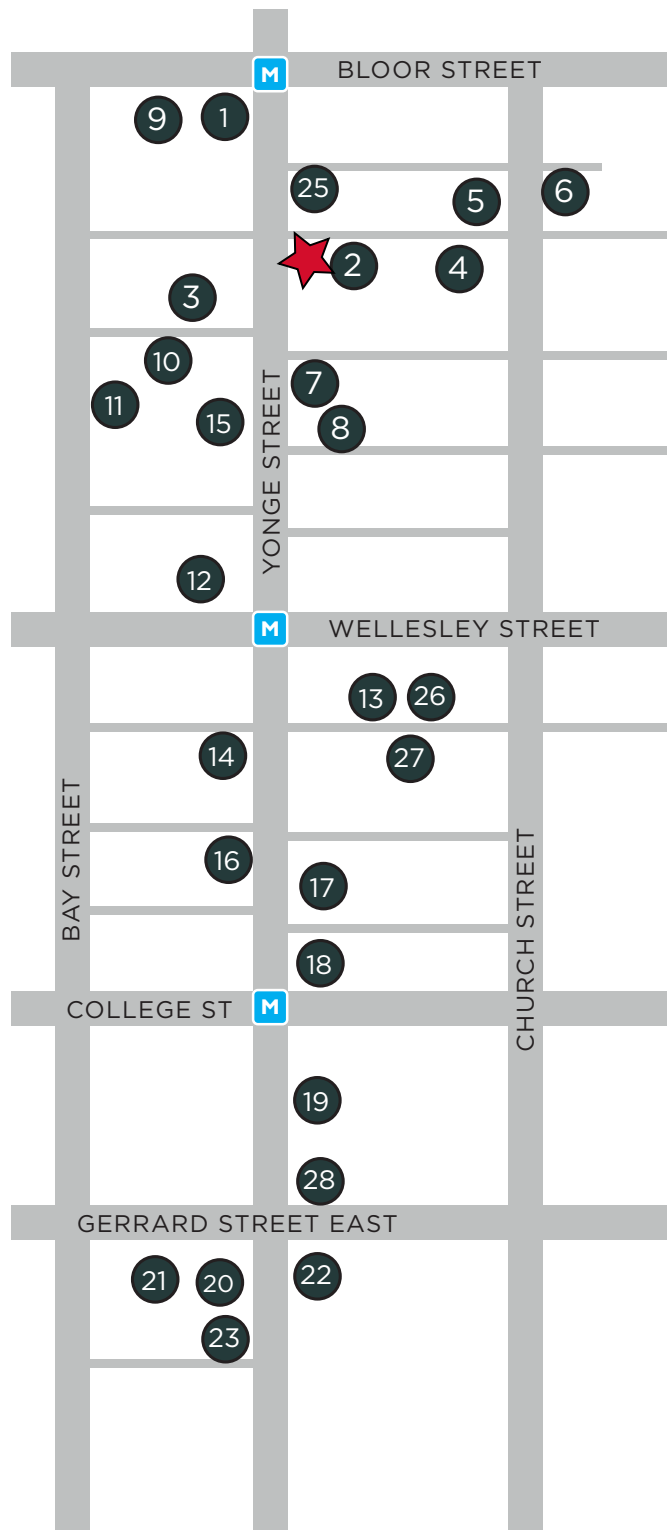

Downtown Yonge is the heart of Toronto's tourist, retail and entertainment scene. It is located along the Line 1 of the TTC subway system and runs north/south from Queen Street to Bloor Street. This area is Toronto's most accessible, serviced by 5 subway stations and numerous bus and streetcar lines.

Two of the city's most popular tourist destinations are found along Yonge Street; Yonge-Dundas Square and The Toronto Eaton Centre. Yonge-Dundas Square is often compared to Times Square, drawing nearly 60 million visitors each year. The intersection is home to a large outdoor public square, a 24 multiplex theatre and the Eaton Centre, North America's busiest mall. Toronto Metropolitan University (formerly Ryerson University) is also located here, and is home to nearly 50,000 students and 1,200 faculty members.

Downtown Yonge is experiencing exponential growth, with the development of a number of high-rise condominiums. There are currently 28 condominiums under construction/proposed along the Yonge Street corridor between Dundas Street and Bloor Street, bringing an additional 18,896 residential units to the area.
